

COVID-19 All Things Considered

Clemson University COVID-19 information and assistance is provided by 3 main web locations:

1 Clemson COVID-19 Home www.clemson.edu/coronavirus

Information portal for all University operations affected by COVID-19

The authoritative clearing house for COVID-19 information and assistance, with guiding principles and detailed logistics for all aspects of returning to campus. The site also includes the latest on COVID-19 prevention practices, access to self-assessment tools, medical testing, emergency assistance and reliable links to other resources addressing the pandemic.

*For
students, faculty and staff.*

2 CCIT ccit.clemson.edu/working-remotely

IT connectivity and resources for remote, classroom and office

Clemson Computing and Information Technology has tailored practical IT guides to aid students, faculty and staff in their new online learning and working environments. Each guide provides an introduction to technologies relevant to its audience, explains why they are important and provides step-by-step resources for getting started.

*For
students,
faculty and staff.*

3 Clemson Online www.clemson.edu/online

Academic continuity / Online course management and learning

The hub for Clemson University's virtual learning programs is ensuring academic continuity during the COVID-19 pandemic. The site has been optimized to guide faculty through emerging modalities of curriculum development: traditional classroom, blended and online. Students and instructors can choose from available learning resources, enabling the business of higher education at Clemson to continue uninterrupted.

*For
faculty and students.*